

WEST OF 105

ABOUT THE MAGAZINE

Colorado is one of the most amazing, beautiful, interesting and dynamic places on the planet. But it is west of Denver, nestled among the majestic Rocky Mountains, where the real Colorado is to be found.

Unique and full of character, the plethora of quaint, vibrant and interesting towns that are the heart of the Colorado Rockies offer something for everyone - from the best ski resorts, restaurants, hotels and spas in the world to events, camping, hiking, biking, fishing, and so much more.

West of 105 will bring what lies in and around those mountains to the rest of the world. It is a magazine for everyone, from those visiting Colorado from all corners of the globe to climb a 14er to those visiting from closer to home to sashay down the slopes - and everyone in between.

West of 105 will showcase the very best of the West, so whether you want a glass of local beer or wine, to camp in the shadow of a mountain (or climb one), enjoy a meal at an award-winning restaurant, fish in Gold Medal waters, or visit a ghost town, this is the publication for you.

ABOUT THE PUBLISHERS

Rob McGovern is originally from the UK and has worked in and around media and PR for the best part of a decade. He has worked for everything from an expat magazine in Seoul to the PR editorial manager for a multi-billion dollar casino in Macau.

Brittany Panter was raised in Western Colorado and after a decade of living and working abroad, she followed the call of the mountains and returned home. She is the creator of the lifestyle website Ladybird of Leisure and has experience writing both lifestyle and business-to-business content.

Rob and Brittany also created Period Communications, a boutique media company, through which they work for several large clients in Asia and in Colorado.

In addition to having the practical skills needed to produce West of 105, they know Western Colorado inside and out. They have experienced the region on bicycle and foot and have spent many nights under the stars. They have also been fortunate enough to have experienced the very best hospitality Western Colorado has to offer.
